

EPR LAWS IN EFFECT

Pay Fees in 2025 to Comply

A

WHO IS AFFECTED?

Food, Beverage,
QSR, & Food Service

Retail (gma),
Convenience, E-Retail –
Private Label, B2B

Household and Industrial Cleaning
(non-hazmat)

Beauty & Personal
Care

Electronics &
Entertainment

WHAT IS EPR?

EPR shifts the cost of recycling and waste management from taxpayers to producers of packaging materials. Extended Producer Responsibility (EPR) laws require companies to report and pay fees for the packaging they use. With California, Colorado and Oregon enforcing EPR, and more states coming, most companies will be affected, making immediate compliance essential.

KEY UPCOMING EPR DEADLINES

- Colorado: Report Due July 31st 2025
- California: Report Due Aug 3rd 2025

Register

Register with Circular
Action Alliance (CAA)

Track

Track and report
packaging materials used

Pay

Pay fees based on material type
and environmental impact

Eco-modulate

Transition packaging to use more sustainable materials and reduce fees

SAMPLE EPR FEE ESTIMATES

A company selling 10 million units of consumer goods may face estimated fees of:

*Actual fees depend on material types, recyclability, and state-specific rates.**

Total Estimate
EPR Fees:

$1,775,000

ADEPT GROUP DELIVERS COMPLIANCE

Adept's suite of services integrate into a seamless end-to-end solution for EPR:

EPR Strategy & Planning

EPR 101 Training, Exposure Analysis and
EPR Readiness Workshops

Data Collection & Reporting

Program Development, Data Gathering &
Analysis and Report Development

Fee Estimation & Calculation

Eco-Modulation

Fee reduction through material optimization

Get EPR Ready Today! Contact us at www.adeptpackaging.com to start your compliance plan.